

ANNUAL MAY DAY
CELEBRATION NOT
MARRED BY "REDS"

All Hints Of Bomb Plots Are Scouted By Government Officials.

NO THREATS ISSUED
TO U. S. OFFICIALS

Gompers Calls Recognition
Of Russia A Betrayal
Of Civilization.

Washington, May 1.—The United States government saw no "red" in the May day celebration today.

All hints of "bomb plots" were scouted by Attorney General Daugherty and other officials of the department of justice who of the opinion that the day would pass uneventfully and without disorders.

The approach of May day brought reports that extremists would attempt demonstrations of violence, but the attorney general, assisted by William J. Burns, chief of the bureau of investigation, made a preliminary survey and reached the conclusion that no outbreaks were in prospect.

Reports to the department of justice indicated that although the country is seriously disturbed with strike troubles, the labor disputes are taking a peaceful course. From coal mining regions, federal officials report that the operators and striking miners are far from an agreement but that neither side is attempting tactics which would justify intervention by government authorities.

On the contrary, latest advices indicate that the two sides in the strike controversy are working around to the point where preliminary friendly conferences are believed possible.

Unlike other May days for several years past, members of the cabinet and other high government officials were without mailed threats of personal violence. This method of "warning" officialdom of moves against their lives or property was a common occurrence in previous years.

COMMUNISM
IS ATTACKED
BY GOMPERS

New York, May 1.—In New York, where 200,000 were to participate in many big May day rallies throughout the city, the call was issued in the form of a statement by Eugene V. Debs, several times Socialist candidate for president, which described labor's issue as "slavery or solidarity" in a declaration in which he said:

"These are crucial days for the American labor movement. In the aftermath of the war organized labor flounders impotently while the master class boldly threatens to annihilate the unions of the workers."

The usual labor solidarity statement from Samuel Gompers took the form of an attack upon Communism and its machinations among the workers of America.

In opposing any American recognition of Russia, as "a base betrayal of civilization" Gompers issued a warning that the Bolshevik propaganda fund in the United States amounts to millions of dollars, bribes have been offered, foreign correspondents have become addicts of the Bolshevik dope habit, and that misrepresentation of the truth about Bolshevism is aided by predatory interest finance which has its appetite up and believes it sees loot in Russia.

The Brotherhood class of the First Baptist church recently elected these officers:

President, Earl Allen; vice president, M. J. Buell; secretary-treasurer, William Miller; Rev. George Heers, the pastor, is teacher of the class. The class is planning to hold its annual banquet some time in May.

Special efforts are being made by the members of this class to build it up by getting all old members out and to get men not attending Sunday school any where to attend. A trombone solo by H. H. Wilkinson at the Sunday morning session was appreciated.

Salem Girl Helps
Win Class Honors

The Junior class of Washington Seminary, Washington, Pa., won the silver cup trophy Saturday for the best executed group event in the interclass competition annually given by the department of physical education for gymnastics and dancing.

The winning score was made in the minute closing program, in which Miss Campbell took a leading part. In a group picture of the Junior class Miss Campbell is holding the cup.

Time Saving
Loses Appeal
In Sing Sing

Ossining, N. Y., May 1.—"Daylight saving is all right for the swells because it gives them an extra hour for golf, but it's tough on us guys who are about to take the long walk."

That is what Sing Sing's death house thinks of daylight saving. It was expressed to Warden Laws today by Wm. Bell and Jacob Rosenwasser, two inmates due to die within a week.

They told the warden they thought they should have the regular time schedule.

She can hear perfectly through vibration, read newspapers by rubbing her fingers over the sheets, and distinguished colors by the same method. Miss Huggins is a rival of Helen Keller.

BOYS IN RIFLE DUEL
AS SOUP IS SPILLED;
MURDER CHARGE FILED

New York, May 1.—A 16-year-old boy was arraigned in Brooklyn today for the killing of a playmate and fellow camper in a rifle duel conducted by challenge across a small pond by a pair of frightened but doggedly determined boys. The cause was a spilled can of tomato soup.

The accused boy, who broke down after he and two companions had stoutly maintained the shooting was an accident, is Victor Janculidich, cook of the camping expedition near the village of Queens, Long Island.

The victim was Jacob Kabitz, 19, "captain" of the expedition, whose bitter arraignment of the camp cook for the accidental spilling of the breakfast tin of soup started verbal warfare lasting several hours.

Finally a challenge to a duel was issued, accepted, and as neither could thereafter withdraw "with honor" the battle was fought, Indian fashion, with 22-long cartridges, until Jacob in a moment of carelessness, let his head show from behind a tree and received a bullet in the brain.

BLAST KILLS
FIVE, INJURES
50 IN HOUSE

Gas Wrecks Rooming House,
Flames Then Sweep Structure.

Kansas City, Mo., May 1.—Five negroes were killed outright and more than 50 persons were hurt early today when an explosion wrecked a rooming house.

The shock of the blast was felt for blocks and windows were shattered in nearby buildings.

The rooming house was destroyed by fire which followed the explosion. An accumulation of gas from a leaky pipe in the cellar was believed to have been the cause of the blast.

Those who lost their lives were injured in the explosion and were burned in the fire which swept the frame structure and reduced it to hot embers in 20 minutes.

SCHOOL BOARD TO FIX
SALARIES OF TEACHERS

Whether Salem school teachers will be granted increases in salary for next year or whether the scale will remain the same, will be decided Monday night at the monthly meeting of the board of education to be held at the High school.

The salary question was brought before the board last month by Superintendent J. S. Alan who recommended that increases be granted several teachers who are receiving salaries below the school scale. Other teachers have asked for increases.

No salary decreases will be made by the board of education, it has been announced. The board points out that the scale in Salem is a trifle lower than in other cities of the same size.

BODY OF GIRL
REFRIGERATED
PROBERS SAY

Choir Singer Died During Illegal Operation, Is Latest Theory.

Hoopstown, Ill., May 1.—Gertrude Hanna, young choir singer died during an illegal operation and her body was literally refrigerated in an ice house before it was carried to the personage basement where it was finally discovered according to a theory built up by officials of Vermillion county today.

The new theory divulged after authorities had closely questioned the father, mother and two sisters of the dead girl, is that Gertrude was taken to the mill for the illegal operation that was reckoned on as the one step to escape from gossip sure to come with the birth of a fatherless child.

The officials this morning went to the mill owned by William T. Hanna, father of the dead girl. It became known that the undertaker declared there were particles of flour such as might be found at a grist mill clinging to the blood on Gertrude Hanna's overshoes.

Then the officials went to the ice house nearby and followed this with a swift journey to a vacant house near the Hanna home. They next went to the city hall and called before them the father, the mother and two sisters. They refused to reveal the results of their examination.

John C. Wyman, former fiancé of the dead girl who confessed her betrayal, was released, but told to remain in the city. He established an alibi by proving he was visiting his mother at Palestine, Ill.

CALLS PROFESSING
CHRISTIANS ONLY
ON SUNDAY LIARS

Can't Be Devil On Monday,
Christian On Sunday,
Rev. Miller Says.

ODD FELLOWS HEAR
SERMON AT CHURCH

Attend Christian Service In Observance Of 103d Anniversary.

"A man's soul and his religious character are not measured by the amount of the scripture he has mastered or by the beautiful word phrases he can utter in leading a religious service, but by the manner in which he conducts himself throughout all his life," said Rev. H. L. Miller Sunday morning when he addressed the different departments of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows and the Home lodge No. 114, Daughters of Rebekah, at First Christian church.

Rev. Mr. Miller welcomed the I. O. O. F. and told his audience some of the history of this organization which was most interesting. The Odd Fellows were observing the 103rd anniversary of their organization, but Rev. Mr. Miller traced the principles of the fraternity still further back as it sprang forth in England.

He congratulated the order on its successful career and upon its greatest merit, that of being a help to others.

"Becomes 'Sunday Liar'"
"A man can not possibly be made up of various incentives for each day of the week," continued Mr. Miller, "with an intellect for part of the week, volition and emotionalism for the remainder of the week. A man who is impious throughout the week and comes to church on the Sabbath professing Christianity is a liar."

"The time has been when we might profess the doctrines, memorize thoroughly the Bible passages, be a Christian on Sunday and a devil on Monday but we are moving away from that state of affairs."

"As a man conducts himself in business in the factory, on the farm, in the office or in whatever line of business he pursues, so he is judged by his religious character, divulged. God professed is doctrine but living out principles of God is God incarnate. In this way can we maintain Him in the flesh."

Special music for the occasion was furnished by the choir. A double quartet of women's voices was appreciated.

Director J. J. Isensee was soloist at the evening service. The sermon subject was "The Kingdom's Amputations," by Rev. H. L. Miller.

Sanity Of The Movies

WHEN the moving picture interests offered Will Hays a long-time contract and a salary double that of the president of the United States there were those who claimed he could render no service that would warrant that salary. Yet it is quite probable that Will Hays' one act in keeping the Abuckles films in the locked room earned and saved to his employers many times the enormous annual salary paid him. He kept the movie business out of a great row with the public that would have been full of danger.

It requires no Solomon to know that, had the Abuckles pictures been released, two results would have followed. Lovers of sensation would have thronged the picture houses for a while, there would have been a quick profit in cash, but there would have been thunders of denunciation from many quarters that, ultimately, would have cost the movie business both money and friends. But, far more dangerous, it would have roused opposition that would have planned restrictive legislation in many states with the certainty that, in some states, the legislation would have been passed and a permanent unhappy situation established. The service that Will Hays rendered was in keeping his employers out of a costly row in which they stood to lose far more than they would gain. Hays took the view of a sober-minded, prudent business man and estimated both the possible gain and the probable cost and prevented a risky bargain from being made.

There is a growing appreciation of the far-reaching importance of the moving picture as a factor in life. It has an influence on impressionable youth that throngs the playhouses. That influence is right or wrong, it is constructive or destructive. In a business way the movie industry is too important to be controlled by the venturesome and unthinking or jeopardized by the greedy, who would exploit anything permitted so long as it brought profit. The moving picture industry had real need for a man with sober business judgment to put out and keep out the objectionable. Most large business enterprises find it profitable to employ expert legal talent to keep them out of trouble. That was what Will Hays was hired for and his services to date more than justify the enormous salary he is supposed to receive. Such services, if continued, will mean happier days for the movie business.

Muddy Thinking

DURING recent years there have been many illustrations of the muddiness of public thought on the question of crime and its punishment. Chicago has supplied the latest and one of the most startling of these illustrations. On April 4 a citizen there shot and killed his wife. On April 21 a coroner's jury voted to discharge him from custody, declining to hold him criminally responsible for the murder for the reason that he was drunk when he used the gun. Unless there are other officials with stouter backbone and clearer vision this cowardly wife murderer is to go free. There may be those in that city to sanction that coroner's jury action, but certainly there must be a very large number who consider it a travesty on justice.

If that precedent is to be followed, then all that is required is to show that the killer was drunk and, presto, he may walk forth unwhipped of justice. Through all the years in which modern justice has been administered prisoners have pleaded in court their inability to remember what was done, because they were drunk. They have insisted there was no murder in their hearts. They have been quick to place all the blame on the liquor they consumed. Justice has listened but has not been convinced of the validity of that defense or the strength of that excuse.

There are plenty of men in prison today, many of them in the Ohio penitentiary, who have insisted they were drunk, they had no recollection of the crime. Only recently a man was electrocuted who had insisted from the time he was arrested that he was drunk and had no knowledge of any killing. Yet his case, reviewed by the higher courts of the state, was not sent back for trial nor did any official interfere, and the penalty was exacted.

Chicago has written many unlovely chapters in her municipal history in recent years. There has been a toleration for criminality displayed there that was shocking, but the coroner's jury verdict is an affront to all the laws of God and man, and that great city, to preserve its integrity, ought to cast that precedent into the sewer.

CAN PLOW ALL DAY LONG AND EAT ANYTHING

Ohio Farmer Declares He Was Almost Physical Wreck and Feared He Would Have to Quit Work, But Taniae Brought Entire Relief.

If it hadn't been for Taniae I would have had to give up farming long ago," declared Albert Xander, R. F. D. 7, Springfield, Ohio.

"I don't believe a person could be in worse condition than I was, and still be out of bed. My liver was out of order, I had absolutely no appetite and my stomach was so upset I could not eat a thing without suffering distress afterwards. While plowing I had to stop and rest at every round, I was so run down, and I had dizzy spells when everything seemed to swim around.

"I am feeling like a different man since taking Taniae. I eat like a wood-chopper and can plow all day long. Taniae always will get a good recommendation from me."

Taniae is sold by all good druggists.

WET AND DRY BATTLE LINES FORMED TO WIN CONGRESSIONAL SEATS

Washington, May 1.—The wet and dry issue was joined here today for the nation wide campaign for election of the 68th congress.

The question involved is complete support of the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act, pledged by the drys whose campaign organization is the Anti-Saloon League of America, versus proposals to elect congressmen who would vote to repeal prohibition, or to modify the Volstead act to legalize beer and wine, behind which are numerous organizations differing in the degree of opposition to prohibition which they express, but all arrayed against absolute prohibition.

The Anti-Saloon League through its legislative committee, today issued "an appeal to the friends of prohibition enforcement," declaring:

"The situation which confronts the people in the primaries, which take place between now and October to nominate 435 congressmen and 35 United States senators is a challenge to the friends of law and order."

At the same time the "Rational American League," which has organized a headquarters in Washington, issued a statement announcing a nation-wide campaign for repeal of the Volstead act and redefining of "intoxicating liquor" to permit beer and wine of low and harmless alcoholic content, asserting:

"The league will carry its campaign for national laws and a liberal America into every state and congressional district and its officers predict a million members before fall."

OHIO STATE STAGE STARS WIN PRAISE

The Strollers Dramatic club of Ohio State university added to its dramatic laurels Saturday night at the high school auditorium with the presentation of its three-act comedy, "Mrs. Bumpstead-Leigh," under the auspices of the Kiwanis club to raise funds for the construction of the Scouts swimming pool on the Yungling farm.

Every member of the cast won praise for the manner in which he handled his respective role. The lead characters displayed a tone of professionalism and the effects of expert directorship while the supporting cast played in perfect accord, bringing applause from the audience which almost filled the auditorium to its capacity.

Georgia Backus as Mrs. Bumpstead-Leigh exhibited clever acting. Her long association with amateur dramatics has won her well deserved praise—from professional critics and Saturday night she upheld that standard in the play which depicted the attempts to break into society and the humorous complications arising in many peculiar manners.

Col. Yearick as Juston Rawson, formerly connected with theatricals in the Panama zone, Heath Woods as Geoffrey Rawson, Hayward Anderson, president of the dramatic club, as Anthony Rawson, and Heiler Jones as Mrs. D. alle, won praise for their expert handling of the serious lines.

JAMES OLIVER CURWOOD HOLDS PHOTOPLAY RECORD

More of His Famous North Stories
Put into Picture Than Any Other.

James Oliver Curwood, word painter of thrilling red blooded tales of the Northwest or "God's country" as he refers to it, has today taken rank as one of the leading authors in this country. Curwood holds the proud distinction of having had more of his novels of the North woods turned into photoplay versions than any other American writer.

He is without doubt the greatest living author of this type of Far North tales. He has been acclaimed a second Jack London because he has lived what he writes. At eight years of age Curwood ran away from home and was picked up in a rowboat about 50 miles out on Lake Erie and that was the start of the Great Adventure for him. When 18 years old he buried himself in the backwoods and trapped during an entire winter to secure funds to go to college the next year. After his college course was finished he spent many years in the Canadian North woods and in the Alaskan country beyond the fringe of civilization, where he gathered the material for his now famous characters and stories. Six months of every year he still spends up in this playground of the gods.

Among his friends he numbers the Indians, half-breeds, the whites, the grizzlies and the moose, not forgetting that hairy breed of sledge dogs that he has made famous in his books. Though he is the author of many thrilling tales of adventure, "God's Country and the Law" is said to be at the head of his list.

70 Operations Required To Make Old-Fashioned Razor Blades; Lisbon Plant Busy

By M. K. ZIMMERMAN

Lisbon, May 1.—Seventy operations are required to make a razor blade—the kind of a razor grandfather used when he shaved himself.

There are only four exclusive razor manufacturers in the United States, and one of the largest of these is located in Lisbon, and owned by Lisbon and East Liverpool Interests.

Razor manufacturers are strong for a protective tariff, and especially for the American valuation clause.

During a recent month, Germany exported 35,000 dozen of a particular safety razor to the United States which sold for 35 cents at retail.

Three Million Sold Annually
According to H. D. Petty, general manager of the National Razor Manufacturing Co., here, about 3,000,000 old-fashioned razors are sold in the United States annually, all the production of American plants. This statement was based upon production records of the leading manufacturers of the United States during the war period and since.

The imported razor at one time had its niche in the United States, but to place this item on a competitive basis with that made in America, it is contended that because of quality the American-made razor will continue at the peak of demand.

The making of a razor blade is an interesting study. The industry here is the only one in all Eastern Ohio. The business was removed here from Fremont late last fall, and manufacturing began in January.

How Blade Is Made
An old-fashioned razor blade is hammered from a thin high carbon steel bar. The long bars, as they are received from the steel plants, are cut down to probably three-foot lengths. One end of the bar is heated and then placed under a steam-driven trip hammer, the first formation being that end of the blade to which is riveted the razor handle.

As soon as this end is formed the piece of steel is moved over to the right an inch or so, and then the trip hammer comes down on the die and the formation of the blade is begun. When this operation ends, the piece of steel is again placed in the small furnace and from the opposite end of the steel bar another razor blade is formed.

The razor blade is tempered in an electric furnace, and then another test is given the steel—another heating and a dip into cold water.

Then follows a long series of handling the razor blade upon different grades of emery wheels, to give the blade its polished surface and keen edge, until finally at the last wheel the razor blade has the bright silver hue.

Into another department the bright razor blades are taken, where the handles are attached, and then the blade is honed, five minutes being required to hone each blade, four different stones being used in this operation.

They Like 'em Wide
Each blade is tested five times before it is placed in the "holder" and prepared for shipment.

"It's odd, but it is true that the colored men like a razor of wide blade," declared Mr. Petty in telling of the market. "When we get an order from a jobber for wide blade razors, we generally know in what section of the country these razors will finally land."

"We make four different sizes of razors and the list includes 28 styles, the latter having to do with the razor handle. There is a growing demand in the United States for a quality razor, which includes quality steel and quality workmanship."

EDWARD MENGE, HEAD OF POTTERS FOR MANY YEARS, DIES SUNDAY

East Liverpool, May 1.—Edward Menge, former president of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters, died at 1:15 p. m. Sunday in his home, 422 West Fifth st., following a lengthy illness. He had been confined to bed only three weeks, but had been in ill health since the fall of 1918, when he was stricken during the influenza epidemic.

Mr. Menge partially recovered from this illness and continued in his duties as head of the national potters' organization until August 1920, when complications developed, forcing him to take leave of absence. He spent some time at several southern health resorts in an effort to recuperate, but was not successful, though he returned for a time to his duties. He continued to fall until August, 1921, when he was forced by his weakened condition to relinquish his executive position.

Born in Wheeling, W. Va., Aug. 29, 1871, Mr. Menge trained as a potter working at the bench until 1902, when he was selected as national secretary of the brotherhood at the convention held there. At this time he moved to East Liverpool. He remained in office as secretary for nine years, succeeding to the presidency after T. J. Duffy in 1911.

Mr. Menge is survived by his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Menge, and two sons, Edward and Bernard, both of East Liverpool.

At What Age Should You Take Needless Risks With Your Health?

Is that a queer question?

Then many people are doing a queer thing—and often it turns out to be a serious thing.

The Federal Bureau of Education says in its rules for the health of school children that children should not drink coffee or tea.

This rule is based on the well-known fact that the drug element in coffee and tea whips up the nerves, and that serious illness often follow.

If it's a good rule for children to keep away from the harm of nerve-stimulation, isn't it a good rule for everybody?

Think it over.

Granted that your body may stand more, can your judgment afford to risk more? Any doctor can tell you what coffee and tea often do to the health of adults as well as children.

There's no sacrifice in being safe. Postum is a delightful, satisfying mealtime beverage, wholesome and pleasant alike for adults and children. Postum has no age limits!

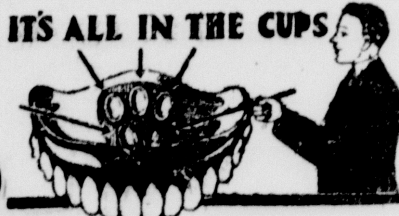

Your grocer has both forms of Postum: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for fully 20 minutes.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Mary Vallandigham
Lisbon, May 1.—Mrs. Mary Vallandigham, an aged woman of Lisbon who several years ago entered the Relief Corps home at Madison, O., died at the institution Friday evening after a short illness, although she had been in failing health for several years.

Announcement of her death was received from the home by Attorney C. S. Speaker, an old friend of the Vallandighams, and he has arranged to have the body brought to Lisbon for burial in the Vallandigham burial lot in the cemetery here. The body will arrive today and will be taken to the home for funeral home. Deceased, who before her marriage was Mary Ella Hunt, was born and reared in Lisbon, leaving here for the west soon after her marriage with Clement Vallandigham a number of years ago. She lived for many years in Minneapolis, but when her health failed, she returned to Lisbon and lived here for several years before entering the Madison home. So far as is known she has no relatives living.

The funeral of Minzo Pryor, aged colored resident of Salem who died Friday morning, was held at 3 p. m. Saturday at the Arbaugh funeral parlors. Interment in Hope cemetery.

In the triangular track and field meet Saturday afternoon at East Liverpool between East Liverpool, Wellsville and Salineville, Wellsville High athletes made such a good showing that predictions are they will romp away with the county meet in two weeks at Lisbon.

EAT LESS AND TAKE SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

Take a Glass of Salts if Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health. When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead, your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night, if you suffer with sick headaches or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia water beverage and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

SAGE AND SULPHUR DARKENS GRAY HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Restore Color, Gloss and Attractiveness

Almost every one knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and luster to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago, the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

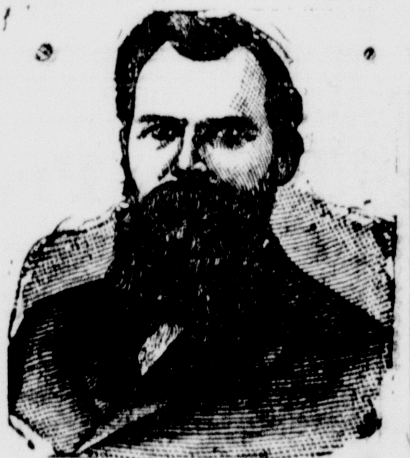

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.

GIRLS SPELL DOWN CLASS IN CONTEST

Win Cash Prizes In Annual Test For Every Rural School In County.

Lisbon, May 1.—Two prouder children could not be found in all Columbiana county Saturday afternoon than Clara Gerber, a Fifth-Sixth grade scholar R. F. D. No. 3, Alliance, taught by Miss Edna Williams and Helen Whoolery, a Seventh-Eighth grade scholar in Furnace school, R. F. D. No. 1, Lisbon, taught by A. E. Pollock.

Three children each won a prize of $5, known as the County Superintendent's premium, for being the two best spellers in the rural schools on the county.

Three lists of words or 175 in all had to be resorted to before a champion speller was proclaimed.

In the Fifth-Sixth grade contest, 44 little boys and girls from about every township in the county took part in the spelling of the first list of 50 words. When these papers were graded five children emerged with a percentage of 100.

They were Kenneth Mich, Alder, Wassink, Clarkson; Helen Whoolery, R. F. D. 6, Lisbon; Velma Furnace school, R. F. D. 1, Lisbon; Melvin Carnes, Mt. Vernon school, R. F. D. No. 2, Leetonia; Irene Freeman, Mt. Hope school, R. F. D. 7, Lisbon. Then the second and third lists of 25 words each were given and Helen Whoolery never missed a word in any test.

Selma M. Elliott of Rogers; Clara Gerber and Susie Drotloff, McCann's school, Salem, R. F. D. No. 2, came through with 100 each and honors were even on the second test. On the third however, Miss Gerber carried off the title.

Last year there were 53 contestants in the Seventh-Eighth grade spelling contest. Only 49 registered Saturday. W. H. VanFossen, former

67,000 DEATHS IN OHIO LAST YEAR; RATE DROPS TO LOWEST IN 9 YEARS

Columbus, May 1.—There were 67,125 deaths, exclusive of still births, in Ohio reported during the year 1931 as compared with 73,846 for 1920. The rate for 1931 is 11.4 per 1,000 population, the lowest rate for Ohio since the division of vital statistics was established in December, 1908. Dr. U. G. Saurrill, registrar announced today.

In the cities 41,182 deaths occurred, with a rate of 11.34, and 25,943 in the rural districts, with a rate of 11.32. There were more deaths in January, 5,942, than in any other month in the year, and fewer in the month of June, there being 4,603.

Forty-one counties in the state reported a death rate lower than that of the state rate. Summit county being the lowest with a rate of 7.2. Auglaize comes next with a rate of 8.9.

Gallia reported the highest rate of 16.8. Erie was next with a rate of 14.3.

The city of Gallipolis reported the highest rate 31.6; Painesville, next with 24.3, and Lakewood the lowest, with 4.4.

The estimated population of Summit county probably is in excess of the real population, owing to industrial condition in January, 1920, when the census was taken which is a factor in its low death rate, as it was 11.4 per 1,000 population in 1920.

The highest rate always goes to Gallipolis, owing to the state epileptic institution being located there.

In the five largest cities in the state, 1,268 children died before they were one week old, 1,699 under one month and 2,022 under one year.

The infant mortality rate in these cities is as follows: Cleveland 67, Cincinnati 74, Toledo 75, Columbus 80 and Akron 68.

It is noticeable for the first time that cancer was responsible for more deaths than tuberculosis.

There was an increase in the number of deaths from typhoid fever, scarlet fever and diphtheria, other

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles. Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Take Olive Tablets the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like. 15c and 30c.

Danger!

Do you realize the risk you take when you drive your car? Let us carry it for you. The cost is nominal.

Could She Do It?

She was the social leader of the sleepy little southern town, an acknowledged aristocrat, heiress to a once magnificent estate, a randow mansion, an imposing family tree and not a red cent.

Could she earn a living for her young brother, her spinster cousin, and herself? Had she the courage to put her pride in her pocket and take boarders? Yes, verily! Agatha had courage enough to win the world.

"The Other Woman"

From the Novel by Norah Davis
With an All-Star Cast including Jane Novak and Joseph Dowling

What Would You Do?

If You Were a
Man and

You loved a woman with all your heart

And she, in turn, loved another man

And that man happened to be her husband

Who had been missing from home five years

And who the whole world believed dead

Except, of course, the faithful wife

And then one day you saw him

Wondering through the streets

A broken derelict, money and memory gone

WHAT WOULD YOU DO?

If You Were a
Woman and:

Your husband had mysteriously disappeared without an explanation

And you had heard nothing from him for five years

During which time another man had been most attentive

But your heart told you over and over again

"He's alive! He's alive! He's alive!"

And then, as mysteriously as he disappears, he returned

And you noticed a strange change in him

And you found that you no longer cared for him

But cared instead for the other man

WHAT WOULD YOU DO?
